

Hewoo Ana,

Thank you so much for agreeing to this date! You're the most important person in my life, and I'm really glad we get to spend this night together! I know you've been really busy with school and job searching and everything else you do, and I hope tonight can be a fun distraction hehe. You're so amazing Ana, every time I hear about all the cool things you're doing I get so excited because it's all so impressive, and you motivate me to try my best and try new things too  I love you, Ana. My feelings for you won't change, and I'm so happy that you're still in my life and that I got the chance to plan tonight's date jijiji. I really hope you like it and that we'll have many more in the future!
